Ryan - Ryan has shown a fantastic attitude towards his learning this week. We have been working hard on our revision for SATs and it has filled us with pride watching how hard Ryan has worked, both independently during practice papers and collaboratively during our team quizzes. I think he has surprised himself with just how much he can achieve when he puts his full 100% into it. Well done, Ryan - you have made us very proud!

Lucy - Collaboration is our value for this half-term, which Lucy shows in abundance, however she has won this week's value award for the resilience she has shown during our practice papers and our revision lessons. When we find something difficult or tricky, we have two options: to persevere and show resilience by trying, and thinking about what can help us to get the answer, or to give up. It fills us with pride to say Lucy has chosen to show resilience each and every time and it has helped her to thrive this week - well done!
